Annual Impact Report
2021-2022 FISCAL YEAR

Dear Friends of Girl Scouts,

With the help of our donors, our members, our volunteers and our staff, this year saw us beginning to emerge from the devastating effects of the pandemic, and to begin the long process of building Girl Scouts of the Sierra Nevada back with courage, confidence, and character.

Because of you, our Girl Scouts are inspired to be entrepreneurs. They were able to return to selling cookies through booths, and enhanced their on-line marketing skills by selling both cookies and fall product through online channels. The Girl Scouts were excited to be back in public, practicing their marketing and retail skills.

Because of you, Girl Scouts are inspired to pursue careers in STEM fields. In partnership with the University of Nevada, Reno and various private companies we were able to hold STEM-Fest in person this year. Participants relished being able to meet in person to participate in all sorts of STEM related activities.

Because of you, our outdoor programming became bigger and better than ever. We added Family Camping Weekends, Wasiu on the Road adventures, Goat Packing expeditions, trips to National Parks and so much more. We were able to offer financial assistance so that all of our families, regardless of financial status, could participate in the incredible programming being nestled in the Sierra Nevadas allows us to enjoy.

Because of you, our Council reached more and more givers in the community. Our amazing volunteers allowed the troops to meet, the outdoor adventures to go, the STEM-Fest activities to be explored and the financial resources to begin building our council back after the damage inflicted by the pandemic. Our Inaugural Group of STARS (Community leaders with the desire to support the Girls Scouts of the Sierra Nevada in its endeavor to be the premier organization for programming and support of girls and women) raised record amounts of money, and re-envisioned Triumphant as a luncheon designed to both fundraise and to highlight all of the annual activities in which our members participate.

Because of you, Girl Scouts of the Sierra Nevada is building our way back to being better and stronger than ever before. Thank you!

Sincerely,

Ann Nelson, CEO

Colleen Worlton, Board Chair

OUR MISSION
Girl Scouting builds girls of courage, confidence, and character,
who make the world a better place.

THE GIRL SCOUT PROMISE
On my honor, I will try:
To serve God and my country,
To help people at all times,
And to live by the Girl Scout Law.

THE GIRL SCOUT LAW
I will do my best to be honest and fair,
friendly and helpful,
considerate and caring, courageous and strong, and responsible for what I say and do, and to respect myself and others,
respect authority,
use resources wisely,
make the world a better place,
and be a sister to every Girl Scout.

More Than Just Cookies

The Girl Scout Cookie Program is the world's largest girl-run entrepreneurship program. The 2022 Cookie Kickoff for the Girl Scouts of the Sierra Nevada (GSSN) was sponsored by US Bank and was held in-person for the first time since the pandemic started.

Throughout the program, each Girl Scout learned the five essential financial literacy skills:

- Money Management
- Goal Setting
- Decision Making
- Business Ethics
- People Skills

In addition to these skills, many Girl Scouts were philanthropic and donated to several local nonprofits.

Many Girl Scouts also donated boxes of cookies through the Gift of Sharing program. They donated to several nonprofit organizations including but not limited to Food Bank of Northern Nevada, Project 150, and Eddy House. In total 4,836 boxes were sold/donated to nonprofit organizations.

Fall Product Program

Girl Scouts are famous for their cookie sales, but not everyone knows we sell nuts, chocolates, and magazines in the fall. This is predominantly a sale to friends and families to kickoff the year and the Nut & Candy delivery comes at the perfect time for holiday giving.

Fall Product is a great way for troops to earn startup money without having to wait for cookie season. The troops can use the funds they earn how they wish. Many save the funds to use after cookie season for trips, programs throughout the year or to enjoy a day at camp, either together as a troop or individually.

This year to kick off Fall Product the Girl Scouts attended a Hawaiian Luau themed roller skating event. The event was open to Girl Scouts and their families.

This year 322 girls participated in the Fall Product sale and 13,538 units were sold.

Because of you, Girl Scouts are inspired to pursue careers in S.T.E.M.

Fun with Purpose

Girl Scouts of the Sierra Nevada engages Girl Scouts of every age with programs in science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM). Our goals through our STEM curriculum are for every Girl Scout to explore different aspects of STEM and to inspire Girl Scouts to embrace and celebrate scientific discovery in their lives.

Girl Scouts started off the year with a STEMfest which was open to Girl Scouts and their families. It showcased a variety of STEM-related activities such as owl pellet dissections, catapults, solar oven s'mores, robotics, math in nature, and many more. UNR and local STEM companies helped in conducting the activities. As Girl Scouts engaged in these programs, there was opportunity to learn about careers in STEM. Programs like these are designed to highlight opportunities in the field of STEM and show Girl Scouts that they are not limited in career options.

In September, Girl Scouts traveled to San Francisco to the San Francisco Exploratorium. This field trip was sponsored by Union Pacific.

The Exploratorium had six exhibits with 20+ activities in each exhibit. The 6 exhibits that the Girl Scouts were able to experience and enjoy were Aurora Lights, Balancing Balls, Bacteropolis, Circuit Workbench, and Colored Shadows. STEM field trips are a great way to further expand Girl Scouts' knowledge and have fun with science.

Life Skills

The Girl Scout programming has five proven, life-long benefits, that enrich participants' lives and help them to grow into well rounded, active community members. The five proven outcomes are:

- Sense of self
- Challenge Seeking
- Positive Values
- Healthy Relationships
- Community Problem Solving

The Life Skill badges that adorn the Girl Scouts' vests mark achievements such as civic engagement, financial literacy, and practical skills. The badges are grouped together under big picture experiences called Journeys. Three journeys follow the Girl Scouts as they grow: It's Your World- Change It!, It's your Planet- Love it!, and It's Your Story-Tell it!

The life skills learned through Girl Scouts' quality programming help to lay the groundwork for participants' life development which ultimately helps them grow into the change-makers of the world. For example, one of our Daisy members joined older Girl Scouts at the Reno Media Group to record radio commercials for cookie season. Though shy at first, she found her voice and stepped up to the microphone.

*Because of you, strong minds will be made and Girl Scouts have a safe place to develop Life Skills

Because of you, quality programming is available to all Girl Scouts through our Diversity Equity and Inclusion initiatives.

Making a Difference

A major focus of the Diversity, Equity and Inclusion (DEI) Program is serving historically underserved communities. Families living in low socioeconomic segments struggle with poverty-related barriers that can prevent girls from participating in Girl Scouts. In these communities, where appointing volunteers can be difficult, Girl Scouts of the Sierra Nevada provides leadership opportunities for Girl Scouts by utilizing trained program staff (troop leaders). Council program leaders foster healthy long-term relationships with the Girl Scouts whom they see at regular troop meetings. The DEI Program partners with several organizations in the communities throughout our council to better identify low-income areas.

A Safe Place for Girl Scouts to Grow

Last summer, GSSN's Outdoor Experience Manager took a group of local Girl Scouts on a day hike in the northern Nevada wilderness. The hikers—all first-generation Girl Scouts participating in the Low-Income Families & Neighborhoods Program—were nervous about a long hike, worried they might not be able to finish. And yet, at the end of the day, every single Girl Scout completed it.

As they sat proudly under the trees at the top of the mountain they climbed, the Girl Scouts reflected on how it felt to conquer a difficult challenge. They talked about a world that existed only in their imaginations—a perfect “Girlltopia” where every Girl Scout knew her own worth and felt confident in her ability to succeed. Every single Girl Scout had tears in her eyes as each spoke of how connected she felt with the others and how proud she was for overcoming her fear of a difficult hike.

Special moments like these are what make Girl Scouting the best leadership experience in the world, offering Girl Scouts opportunities to develop valuable life skills. It is our goal to empower EVERY girl to develop her full potential and make the world a better place.

“Every single girl had tears in her eyes, imagining a life where every girl had what she needed to succeed. The outdoors and the camaraderie had brought them closer together.”

–GSSN Outdoor Experience Manager

Because of you, Girl Scouts will experience the natural wonders of the Outdoors

Girls Get Outside

Studies show that spending time outdoors improves mental, physical and social health. Increasing our outdoor offerings and bringing the outdoor experience to every girl is a GSSN goal. While the pandemic impacted our ability to offer outdoor programs over the past two years, beginning in the summer of 2022, we hosted Family Weekends, Day Camps and “Wasiu on the Road”.

Outdoor programming is a great way for Girl Scouts to learn about the environment around them, have fun with new friends, and build confidence in new activities.

Our Girl Scouts participated in activities such as horseback riding, backpacking, camping, crawdad hunting, archery, rock climbing, field trips to Animal Ark and Urban Air, fishing, paddle boarding, and so many more!

For our Girl Scouts, the outdoors is a place of discovery, fun, and adventure. Because of you, Girl Scouts will experience the natural wonders of the outdoors.

From Volcanoes to the Ocean Shore

In the summer of 2022, Girl Scouts loaded into the GSSN van and hit the road.

Wasiu on the Road was a huge success in 2021 and we hosted the program again in 2022. This model of camp allowed us to bring camp staff, traditions, and programming to our Girl Scouts in Tahoe, Elko, Susanville, Bridgeport, Minden, Genoa, Truckee and Portola, reaching many Girl Scouts who may have not been able to attend camp otherwise.

With our council region spreading across Northern Nevada and Northeast California, providing equal opportunities for outdoor programming can be challenging. Wasiu on the Road allows every Girl Scout in our region to experience the natural wonders of the Sierra Nevadas and will become a regular camp offering in the future years.

Triumphant Luncheon

In 2022, the Triumphant Committee brought back our Triumphant event as a luncheon, and it was a success! Triumphant is about bringing back what Girl Scouts does and means to the community. The programs were highlighted with an Expo. We had booths that showcased some of our high quality programming including: archery, fly fishing, first aid, packing a backpack, girls in construction, and navigation.

Our Committee was comprised of active community members who work to make the world a better place in their careers. Our Triumphant Committee was led by Ann Morgan and Sarah Beth Brown. Its members were Allison Jonkey, Billie Sue Wozniak, BJ North, Colleen Worlton, Mendy Elliot, Meredith Williams, Molly Rezac, Sharon Beesley, and Kelly Glenn. Our staff members were Karen Rudd and Nadine Angel.

All funds raised stayed local and made a positive impact by supporting the quality programs that Girl Scouting offers.

STARS Inaugural year

Girl Scout STARS is a group of philanthropic people with the desire to support the girls in our communities in exploring their opportunities, seeing their potential, and engaging in impactful programs. Girl Scout STARS will enjoy year-round engagement with other visionary leaders, have opportunities for engaging with and mentoring girls while supporting the Girl Scout mission.

“We want every girl to have the chance to thrive because when girls thrive, the world becomes a better place.”

Girl Scouts Highest Awards

Girl Scouts is the only place where girls can earn the Gold Award, one of the most prestigious awards for girls in the world. This year we had 4 amazing young women achieve their Gold Awards: Denali Cooke, Julianna Martin, Siena Lopez, and Wendy Thompson.

Earning a Girl Scout Gold Award is a great boost when it comes to applying to college and for scholarships. Younger Girl Scouts can complete their Bronze and Silver awards, and this year our council saw 21 Girl Scouts earn their Bronze awards and 31 Girl Scouts earn their Silver. These awards give Girl Scouts the chance to make powerful, lasting change in their community while working on an issue that has captured their interest and sparked their creativity.

This year our awards ceremony, All That Glitters/ Volunteer Spotlight, honored our Gold, Silver, and Bronze recipients and our Adult Volunteers and we were grateful to gather again in-person. All That Glitters was held on May 7, 2022.

Gold Award Girl Scouts

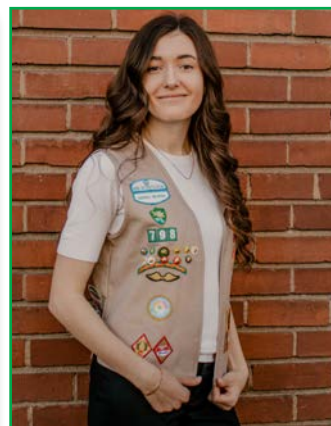

Denali Cooke

“A Moment of Science”
Awarded the Crutchfield-Healy
Memorial Scholarship

Denali Cooke’s “A Moment of Science” Gold Award project inspiration came when she realized women and minorities all over the world are underrepresented in STEM careers, primarily because of their lack of exposure, opportunities, and role models. Even now, in the twenty-first century, when people envision a scientist, women and minorities are not the first images that come to mind, and children are still exposed to that stereotype. For her project, Denali focused on giving young women and minorities at the Boys and Girls Club of North Lake Tahoe the opportunity to gain exposure to STEM and science through fun activities and experiments.

Her hope was to inspire an interest in these fields in a new generation, and Denali feels as though she successfully did so. Everyone Denali worked with loved the activities, and she truly believes that she successfully inspired the next generation of scientists.

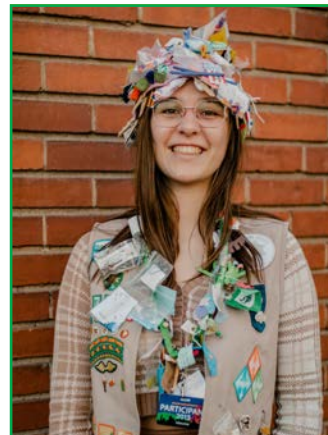

Juliana Martin

“Connecting the Dots”

Juliana Martin’s “Connecting the Dots” Gold Award project was born in the midst of the collective isolation that resulted from COVID-19 and after a classmate took their own life. Julianna used portrait photography to visualize the connections that form her school community and to show students why their lives matter. She photographed unique portraits of each freshman student holding an object that represented their individual story, collected nearly two hundred of their personal written reflections, and compiled the portraits and statements in a large-scale public display at Truckee High School, in Truckee, CA. Julianna revealed the essential role that students play in each other’s lives by showcasing their interconnectedness, and allowing students to see that they belonged among the faces on the wall simply because they bring something unique to their school. In addition to the portrait display, Julianna also filmed an educational video series with her school counseling team on mental health topics such as how to maintain your personal mental health and what to do if a friend is struggling with their mental health.

Gold Award Girl Scouts

Siena Lopez

“Helping the Wild”

Siena Lopez’s “Helping the Wild” Gold Award project is a series of three educational art tutorials that teach how to draw three different birds from around the world that are threatened by wildfires. Students learn to create art using the Spix’s Macaw from the Amazon, the California Condor from the United States, and the Swift Parrot from Australia while learning environmental facts about each of these threatened bird species as well as facts about other wildlife affected by wildfires. Siena’s “Helping the Wild” videos are now used by the Glenshire Elementary School in Truckee, CA, to bring art and environmental awareness into the students’ school curricula.

In addition to teaching art techniques, the videos teach students empathy for their environment and good environmental sustainability habits.

Siena started Girl Scouts in first grade as a Daisy. Being a Girl Scout has fundamentally shaped who she is as a person. She’s had many incredible experiences with her troop leader and troop members, such as attending camporees with her bucket hat and her necklace covered in SWAPS. Her Gold Award project, and her experiences in Girl Scouts, gave Siena the courage to pursue a career in STEM.

Wendy Thompson

“Walk the Solar System”

Wendy Thompson’s “Walk the Solar System” Gold Award project provides free resources to teachers, parents, and troop leaders to enrich their science curricula and add hands-on learning activities to their classrooms. Wendy created a website with customizable lesson plans with worksheets and add-ons such as coloring pages. These activities culminate in students creating a to-scale, walkable model of our Solar System. Wendy also created physical sets of Solar System object posters with original paintings and important facts that she gave to staff at The Discovery museum in Reno and the Girl Scout Service Center for long-term use. Wendy started Girl Scouts 13 years ago as a Brownie and has participated every year since. For many years, she was part of a variety of troops in Girl Scout councils both in Florida and Nevada, and in eighth grade she became a Juliette Girl Scout. She has attended Girl Scout camps, joined weekend activities, sold cookies and fall products, and received her Bronze, Silver, and finally Gold Awards.

Juliette Gordon Low Society

The GSSN Juliette Gordon Low Society recognizes and celebrates individuals who make a planned or deferred gift to Girl Scouts of the Sierra Nevada, assuring Girl Scouting will be available to future generations of girls. Society members translate their lifelong passion for Girl Scouts into a legacy that will build girls who make the world a better place for many years to come. A planned gift can include naming Scouts of the Sierra Nevada as a beneficiary of a will, retirement plan, living trust, life insurance policy, remainder gift of real estate, and other gifts that benefit Scouts in the future.

Invest In Girls Change the World!

Ways to Volunteer

- Help girls explore the great outdoors during camp season
- Support us at our events – like TRIUMPHANT
- Become a troop leader
- Help girls hone their financial literacy and entrepreneurial skills during the cookie sale
- And so many more!

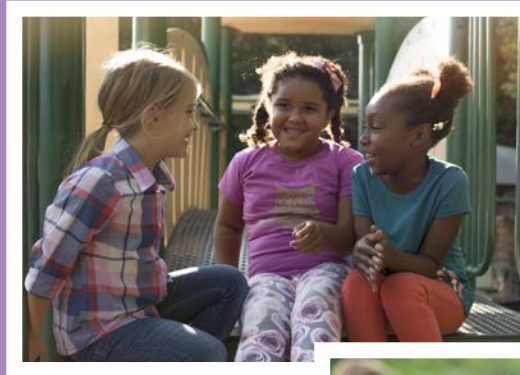

Ways to Give

- Support Girl Scouts all year by becoming an Annual Corporate Sponsor or individual donor
- Pledge a legacy gift and impact the lives of future Girl Scouts
- Send a Girl Scout to camp
- You can support our Diversity, Equity and Inclusion programs, so every girl has the opportunity to be a Girl Scout

Crutchfield-Healy Scholarship

Girl Scouts of the Sierra Nevada is very fortunate to have a scholarship award given to us by a very special family. The Crutchfield-Healy scholarship has been given to a young woman every year since 1997. The $2,000 scholarship must go to a registered Girl Scout who is a graduating senior, earned her Gold Award, and has been accepted to a four-year college or university.

Denali Cooke was the 2022 recipient of the Crutchfield Healy scholarship. Denali is now attending the University of Oregon as a Psychology major.

Fundraisers

Thank you to IMBIB and the Nevada Sunset Winery for holding their annual Cookies On Tap and Cookies And Wine fundraisers.

Each venue prepared custom beer/wine pairings with a variety of Girl Scout cookies.

Each year the participants' enthusiasm grows as does the event. This concluded the 6th year of these events supporting quality programming for the Girl Scouts of the Sierra Nevada.
